Et plus bas sur la page Settings, il y a une description un peu plus détaillée. Dans ce cas on voit que le problème vient du fichier `_data/menu.yaml`.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the address bar displaying "https://github.com/LaetitiaStucki/laetitia-stucki-v2/settings". The page title is "GitHub Pages". Below the title, a message states: "GitHub Pages is designed to host your personal, organization, or project pages from a GitHub repository." A yellow warning box contains the following text: "⚠ Your site is having problems building: There was a YAML syntax error on line 41 column 5 in `_data/menu.yaml`. Could not find expected ':' while scanning a simple key. For more information, see <https://help.github.com/articles/page-build-failed-invalid-yaml-in-data-file/>." The file name `_data/menu.yaml` is circled in red. Below the warning box, the "Source" section shows "gh-pages branch" selected in a dropdown menu, with a "Save" button. The "Theme Chooser" section has a "Choose a theme" button. The "Custom domain" section shows "laetitia-stucki.ch" entered in a text field, with a "Save" button.
